President's Corner

It has been very busy for many people these past few months. Christmas and New Year are behind us with Easter just around the corner. Summer rains mean that Clayton Bay and surrounds are enjoying unseasonal green-ness at the moment in readiness for the Adelaide Cup long weekend, Easter and the school holidays.

Simon Grenfell, General Manager Engineering Services at Alexandrina Council, recently visited Clayton Bay and was impressed with the work carried out by volunteers in keeping the walking trail, hall and grounds and boardwalk weeded and cared for. As part of the Foreshore Management Plan the toilets at Old Clayton have received a facelift and are now operational once again. Canoe access at the point has been enhanced with the removal of reeds and installation of a launching platform. The car parking area is to be improved with seating and landscaping and timber steps created to improve pedestrian access to the car park and point trail.

I encourage visitors and locals to respect and understand the valuable work undertaken by the community and the Council and to be aware that the dumping of prunings and garden waste on Council land is an offence under Council By-Laws.

Let' all show that we care for our unique part of the world!

RED BALLOON DAY

The Local CFS Brigade has had a mixed summer of fires. During November and December we were involved in the following fires as members of strike teams:-

- ♦ Pinery fire.
- ♦ Kyeema fire.
- ♦ Mosquito Hill fires.

These were very severe fires and took many days of firefighting to control and then Mop Up.

January has been very quiet with 1 call out to investigate smoke. This turned out to be dust behind a tractor.

Late February we were called to a fire just on the western side of town. However – we did not have our truck available so Milang, Currency Creek, Langhorne Creek and a Strathalbyn trucks took care of this fire. Several of our crew went to the scene and assisted the responding crews. This fire was monitored carefully for a few days to ensure no rekindle.

Some of our crew had taken our truck to the river front one morning to do an exercise. They heard strange noises from the main pump engine and noticed oil coming from it. It was arranged for the truck to go to Mt. Barker for the engineers to look at it. Whilst there, no oil leaked and the pump seemed to sound O.K. On its return there was oil leaking from the pump and so it has now gone back to Mt. Barker for authority to fix the problem. It appears that the main engine seal has given way and will need replacing. This is a costly job and authority has now been given for the repair and Region 1 will fit the bill. In the mean time we have the loan of the Langhorne Creeks 14 truck.

This event was inspired by a similar event in Geelong, Victoria in early 2014. Bendigo woman Jody Hardiman thought to take this initiative nationwide annually, so created an event on Facebook for “The National Red Balloon Day” with the aim to honour and thank our brave and courageous fire fighters Australia Wide.

Last year you may have seen a red balloon being flown by Linda Roberts and wondered what it represented. This year Sam Wassenaar has become our districts ambassador for the National Red Balloon day.

You may have seen the stall outside of Sails on Saturday and Sunday the 27th and 28th of February. People were selling various items, including:- Red Balloons, Stickers, Pens etc. We were interested in the numbers of people who were stopping and talking with us concerning this National Day.

We are hopeful that this event will grow in coming years across our district.

Thank you to all of the Clayton Bay community who support our efforts.

Regards Geoff. Braddock

We can't believe it's been 18 months since we first made our products available for sale and the end of 2015 has been an exciting time for SOME Foods.

During September we appointed distributors for New South Wales and Victoria and now have retail stores in these states stocking our product; just Western Australia to go and we'll hopefully appoint a distributor there in the first quarter.

On November 20th, the SA Food Industry held it's annual awards dinner at the Adelaide Convention Centre and we were fortunate enough to be named as finalists in the New Product Award category for companies with less than 15 full time employees. Sitting in a room of approximately 700 people, surrounded by some of the well-known names in the food industry was an amazing experience...and when we were announced winners in our category it really did seem quite surreal!

What's next? Well, some of you will already have heard that we have recently leased a property in Milang, where we are now manufacturing our products and also have a shop front where we sell a variety of foods for the "intolerant" foodie. We'd love you to drop by The FODMAPer's Provadore - Shop 7, 10-17 Daranda Terrace on Fridays 3-6pm or Sundays 11am-2pm...and get your taste buds ready to try our new Malaysian sauces, available soon!

Earth Hour

Earth Hour launched in Sydney in 2007, with 2.2 million people and 2,100 businesses participating in the 'lights off' event. Just one year later, Earth Hour became a global phenomenon with over 35 countries participating, and an estimated 50-100 million people.

In 2015, Earth Hour was celebrated in over 162 countries and over 7000 cities and towns worldwide. The symbolic hour has grown into the world's largest grassroots movement for the environment, with beyond the hour projects and initiatives happening throughout the year.

Earth Hour is a great home-grown success story: an Aussie campaign designed to draw attention to tackling global warming and get people talking about what we can do to help.

Keep Australia Beautiful is switching off for Earth Hour 2016 on 19 March at 8.30pm.

Earth Hour 2016 will call upon its millions of supporters around the world to shine a light on climate action, to celebrate what we have achieved together and reiterate our collective commitment towards changing climate change. In 2016, coincidentally also the tenth lights out, Earth Hour will roll across the globe at 8:30 pm local time on Saturday, 19 March. During this global moment of solidarity, we will ask Earth Hour supporters around the world to take a stand to solve our planet's biggest environmental challenge yet and shine a light on climate action.

AROUND THE BAY

(Stories and goings on from Clayton Bay)

On 10th December, 2015 Professor Mike Thompson from the University of Sydney spoke to a group of 25 people at the Clayton Bay Community Hall about the different species of Turtle in our area, why they are important to our river system and how they are under extreme threat. Mike also showed us the TurtleSAT app and how it can be used to record turtle sightings.

As one of the key threats to turtles is predation from foxes, Sandy Cummings, Senior NRM Officer with Natural Resources, SAMDB spoke about fox control methods and how to get the best results. For more information on 'The Turtle Project', which Mike is involved in visit <http://www.turtlesat.org.au/turtlesat/>

This year's Outdoor Cinema screening of Bran Nue Dae was enjoyed by around 60 people some of whom had seen the movie before but it didn't matter as it is one of those iconic fun films. If you haven't seen it it's worth tracking down.

The Strathalbyn and Districts Uniting Church held their Harvest Celebration at the Clayton Bay Hall recently and were impressed with the facilities, the outdoor pergola area and the Henry Jones Garden. It was a beautiful day so Clayton was at its best.

The same day I came across several Sea Rescue boats at the boating destination and wondered whether there had been some sort of incident! Ten boats in all tied up and relief set in when I saw picnic tables, food etc being taken ashore. On further investigation I discovered that they were from the Victor Harbor & Goolwa Sea Rescue who were finishing a training exercise with a relaxing barby on shore.

How wonderful our oval, reserves and the walking track look at the moment thanks to the Council and dedicated volunteers. The reeds either side of the boardwalk have also been whippersnipped by one of our dedicated volunteers. Where would we as a community be without the assistance and support of the council and the dedication of our volunteers.

In case you haven't heard, Sails runs an Open Mic every 4th Sunday of the month and if recent months are anything to go by, it's THE place to be. Please note that this date has changed so you may want to make a note of it in your Clayton Bay Calendar which has it listed as every 1st Sunday of the month. To make sure you have a place on the deck it is best to book beforehand as people come from far and wide it's so popular.

Yet again the Australia Day Breakfast was a resounding success! There were as many if not more people than last year which was our biggest ever. Residents and visitors enjoyed the breakfast cooked by the CFS with the pancakes so popular they sold out. The CBCA organizes this event and donates ALL proceeds from the breakfast to the CFS—this year a cheque for $1,675 was presented to the CFS after their Tuesday training.

Membership Lucky Draw
$50 was not won at the

Be inspired to eat SOME...

Zingy Pasta Salad– serves 5-8

Ingredients

About 1/3 of a jar of SOME Foods Northern Indian Butter Chicken

250g gluten free pasta spirals, penne or shells

1 small red capsicum

1 small green capsicum

Method

Cook the pasta according to the instructions on the packet, then drain, rinse with cold water to cool the pasta and drain again.

Dice the red and green capsicum, place into a serving bowl along with the cooled pasta. Pour over about 1/3 of a jar of SOME Foods Northern Indian Butter Chicken and mix through thoroughly - if you like a more heavily dressed salad, use up to about 1/2 a jar.

Green Curry Dip

Ingredients

1/3 of a jar of SOME Foods Thai Green Curry

100g Danish or Persian feta (these types of feta are lovely and creamy)

125g frozen spinach, thawed - squeeze to remove the fluid

125g water chestnuts, diced

Method

In a bowl, mash the feta then add SOME Foods Thai Green Curry. Mix together to form a paste - don't worry if there are some small lumps from the feta. Mix through the spinach and water chestnuts.

Serve with gluten free toasts, your favourite gluten free crackers, or sticks of carrot, cucumber and capsicum.

SOME Foods range of Indian, Thai & Italian cooking sauces are available for purchase from The FODMAPer's Provedore, Milang; The Winehouse, Langhorne Creek; Jetty Food Store, Port Elliot; Sails at Clayton Bay, Other speciality stores and select Foodland supermarkets.

Clayton Bay Community Association at work for our Community

Readers will recall that the CBCA Committee is endeavouring to have the speed limit reduced on Alexandrina Drive from 80kph to 60kph.

We have received wonderful cooperation and support from the staff of Alexandrina Council but our stumbling block is the Dept of Transport. However, we will not give up, Council is continuing to try to communicate with the Dept of Transport and the CBCA Committee has agreed to pursue the matter with, Adrian Pederick our local member.

We will keep you up to date with our progress.

Autumn 2016 is here already and the Committee of the Clayton Bay Community Assn are considering the future.

On Saturday 27th February the Committee met for a Future Planning meeting. Our intrepid leader, Leonie Henderson, led us through the process examining the budget, what funds are needed in the next 3-5 years, what do we need to do to raise the funds and what events will be held to meet the needs of the budget and more importantly, the needs of the community.

Thanks to the skills of Cathy Fish a template has been prepared which will assist all event planning for the future CBCA Committees.

Which leads us to ask, who will nominate for a position on the committee at the next CBCA AGM. It is likely that some members will stand down in August, leaving opportunities for new people with new ideas and a diversity of skills.

Being on the committee has many benefits. You will:

Gain a strong connection with your community

Meet others and make new friends

Utilize your skills

Enjoy a good feeling that you have made a significant contribution to your community

If you are interested in becoming involved please chat with a current Committee member or consider attending a meeting to gain a firsthand experience.

ARRRGGGHHH!!!

Every year on the second Saturday in January the Clayton Bay Boat Club hosts a Pirates' Day. This event is for young and old pirates alike and its growing reputation as an action-packed fun day meant that this year's attendance was the best yet.

Pontius Pirate (Robert Edgar, Commodore, CBBC), Little Grey Beard (Rob Hylton, long-time member of the CBBC) and crew led the activities, which commenced with a rather splashy cork pickup on the water with kids and adults in various small watercraft frantically rowing and paddling (there was one hardy swimmer as well) to collect as many corks as possible in order to reap the rewards (aka "loot"). A willingness to consume sweets is an essential part of participating of course, and chocolate gold coins are much prized. A quick scoff of some of these provided enough energy to undertake the port-and-starboard game, aimed at teaching younger pirates about the parts of boats: bow, stern, port, starboard.

The morning's activities concluded with all the pirates lining up for the judging of the best-dressed girl pirate, boy pirate and family of pirates. Wigs, beards, eye patches, quirky hats, ragged shorts and bandanas abounded! If anyone still hadn't laughed enough, after having a sausage sizzle lunch they could join in the jelly dessert games, in which blindfolded participants do their best to feed each other. Needless to say the results are messy and hilarious!

A willingness to get (very, very) wet is also an essential part of joining in the fun of pirates' day. The water slide was popular, but the highlight of the day, which came after everyone had deciphered properly nautical clues and dashed about looking for the "Treasure" in the annual hunt, was the Walk The Plank ceremony. A couple of the more juvenile adults took to the water quite quickly, followed by an enthusiastic line of small (and very small) pirates, all equally keen to make a big enough splash to soak all the onlookers perched along the marina. None can have minded being prodded at the end of Little Grey Beard's sword, because they came back time and again for more.

Make sure you put it in your diary for next year – it's a great day. It's free for all kids, and they must be accompanied by a responsible adult. Come and join in or simply watch the fun and enjoy the great family atmosphere of the Clayton Bay Boat Club.

CBNEG has made a purposeful start to 2016.

Plants have been propagated in preparation this year's plantings and equipment has been modified to improve efficiency.

We have benefited from our ongoing partnership with the Green Corps team whose involvement has assisted our Manager and volunteers to maintain the walking trail and ensure that we meet our planting commitments.

The Nursery continues to host the morning teas on a Tuesday morning (10am) for visitors to drop in for a chat and see just what does happen behind the fence!!!

Committee members met with Simon Grenfell General Manager –Engineering and Environment, Alexandrina Council, who visited to meet with representatives from CBCA and CBNEG. Aspects of the Foreshore Management Plan, which is already underway, were clarified. He also took the time to view the canoe launch site which has been erected.

An informal morning tea with visitors, volunteers, organizational reps and Simon was a positive encounter. We are indeed fortunate to enjoy the support and cooperation of the staff and Councilors of Alexandrina Council which was once again demonstrated by this visit.

We encourage community members to plant native species and utilize the Nursery expertise when planning your gardens.

We look forward to assisting you.

Regards

Peter Smytherman
Chairperson CBNEG

Caltrop

Caltrop (Tribulus terrestris) is a summer-growing weed growing around the foreshore trail (and likely in your backyard or vacant block). Volunteers have hand pulled a huge amount of the weed around the trail (and in empty blocks often used as thoroughfares by residents). The GWLAP contractor has also applied herbicide to the weed, particularly between the Point and Sturt Street where the infestation is greatest..

Caltrop has seeds that remain dormant in the soil for probably four to five years. They germinate after summer rain and grow rapidly, flowering and forming new burrs within three to five weeks.

The trailing stems of caltrop are long and wiry and covered with fine hairs. The stems lie prostrate on the ground, radiating from a central taproot. The leaves consist of several leaflets arranged opposite each other on the stems. The leaves are fern-like and greyish-green.

The flowers are small, less than 1cm in diameter, and yellow with five petals. Wedge-shaped burrs are formed in clusters of five, each with four or more long sharp spines. Caltrop is a nuisance plant because of the sharp spiny burrs, and is easily spread by recreational walkers, dogs, cyclists and any rubber tyred vehicle. A heavy infestation after summer rain can produce an abundance of spiny burrs, which make it very uncomfortable for people and animals alike.

What can you do?

The control of caltrop in Clayton is achievable. Compared to many sites around the region the infestation is not so large.

We can contain the spread by checking shoes, checking your own yards and empty blocks.

The weed can be removed by hand – if you are careful. Put into plastic bags and put it in your blue lidded bin – never put it in the green waste bin. If you have an abundance of seed in your yard, you can wear a pair of thongs, walk through the area several times, and bin the thongs. (See photo on the back cover)

Small plants on the trail with flowers but no burrs can be hand pulled (try to pull out root too). The weed can be left onsite—if it has no burrs, or put into a bag (for ease of carrying) and bin when available.

Any concerns phone: CBNEG – 0418 838 003

VOLUNTEERING WITH BLAZE AID

They arrived from far and near, the young, the not so young and the older than not so young. Volunteers from around Australia arrive at the Blaze Aid Camp at the Roseworthy Campus of the Adelaide University north of Gawler to help the property owners who witnessed personally and experienced at firsthand the devastation the Pinery bushfire left in its wake in November 2015

A caravan park has been set up around the College oval with provision for caravans, tents and campervans. Toilets and showers are available along with laundry facilities. There is also some dormitory style accommodation available. Due to the extent of the Pinery Fire, it is expected that Blaze Aid will be working in the area for at least the first 6 months of 2016

Daily routine is - Each morning breakfast in dining room at 6.30am cooked by the kitchen volunteers and Muster at 7.30am when volunteers gather to be assigned to a team leader (by the Camp Co-ordinator) and to a property they will be working on. Most properties are within half hour drive of the camp. Transport to and from the job is provided. All trailers, tools and equipment, gloves, goggles, hats, sun creams etc. are provided by Blaze Aid from public donations.

Blaze Aid's program of clearing and rebuilding fences for those affected by the fires use volunteers who are willing to lend a hand for a day, a week, a month, or however much time you have to offer. You don't need to know about, or be skilled at building fences, there are farmers/fencers and property owners who volunteer and have the skills to lead a team. During the first few months of the year there was lots of clearing of burnt, fallen trees and branches and clearing/taking down of damaged fences.

The weather was hot and the work dirty and dusty. You work at your own pace and rest when you need. Lunch is provided by Blaze Aid or the property owner and a cooked dinner is provided back at camp at 6.30pm. Refreshments are also supplied. If working in the paddocks is not your scene then there is base camp kitchen work, cooking, cleaning or some administration work may be available.

There are lots of laughs, fun and camaraderie and friends made during the camp and people look forward to catching up with each other again.

I have been a volunteer with Blaze Aid for the past 5 years and helped out during the floods in Victoria and NSW and recently the fires last year at Sampson Flats (Lenswood) – it is the most rewarding work and I have met some really interesting people and formed some great friendships – it's great to catch up with these friends again and again at various camps.

It took me 2 hours on a leisurely drive from Clayton Bay to Roseworthy College.

Whilst there, I met a young man (20's) there who had flown from Brisbane when he heard about the fires and came to help for a week during his holidays. Another young man (30's) and his dad (70) hired a van and drove over from Sydney to help for a few weeks. A young German lass (20's) touring Australia on a bicycle rode from Melbourne to Roseworthy to help because she said 'she could.' People from Lakes Entrance Vic.(80's) came, from Tassie, Darwin and WA. The locals of all ages and school children came daily or at weekends to do their bit. A teenage grand-daughter came with her 'pop' and camped in a swag for a few days.. It's a worthwhile job and the work is much appreciated by the locals – people who have lost their homes their belongings, treasures, livelihood and livestock and are left with piles of dust and ashes, they are grateful for the time, willingness and energy given by Blaze Aid volunteers. –

Why not give it a go, be a Blaze Aid volunteer for a day, a weekend, a week – You are needed, welcome and It makes you feel good too !!

Contact Wendy (Camp Co-ordinator Roseworthy) at Blaze Aid on 0467 999 909 for more information.

DON'T FEED THE BIRDS

Natural Resources SA Murray-Darling Basin District Manager Sarah lance said the Natural Resources Centre was receiving increasing numbers of calls from people asking about feeding mostly large species such as cockatoos, swans, pelicans and kites.

"We'd like everyone to stop and think about the consequences of feeding birds for us, our neighbours and of course for the birds themselves," Ms Lance said.

"When we feed wild animals, they become less experienced at foraging for their natural food.

"They may also lose their fear of people and will approach them for food.

"This can then lead to aggression problems, or incidents where people who have fears of these animals may mistake an approach for an 'attack'.

"It also diminishes animals' natural wariness, which is an important skill for them to defend themselves from predators or those who may intentionally harm them."

Recently at Old Clayton the swamp hens have taken matters into their own hands, so to speak, by helping themselves to fruit from local trees - we don't feed them so they help themselves!

Yellowing Citrus Leaves

Several of my citrus trees have been looking worse for wear after the summer months and so I have been giving them regular doses of seaweed solution to help strengthen them.

I don't usually feed any of my plants during hot, dry weather but with the recent rain and no signs of a prolonged period of heat, I have applied a dose of poultry manure, which I find to be the best all purpose fertiliser for citrus without using a commercial brand. Just make sure you do not apply it while the plant is in flower and this will cause the fruit to drop. Citrus plants are very heavy feeders and will quickly show signs of nutrient deficiency if not fed enough. Aim for at least every 6-8 weeks during spring to autumn when they are growing at their fastest.

When fertilizing any tree, make sure that the product is applied around the drip-line, not the trunk, and make sure you water it in really, really well. I try and time it for immediately after a heavy rainfall so the ground is already damp. Even with a regular fertilizing program, citrus trees can still indicate symptoms of iron deficiency – this shows as dark green veins on the leaf, but the parts between turn pale green/yellow. If this is the case, water in some iron sulphate at the rate of 1 tablespoon per 4.5 litres per tree and apply once in spring, summer and autumn.

Hope this helps!

A FROGGY WOULD A WOONG GO!

It's now March and the final month of the six month frog monitoring, that goes on every year at Clayton Bay and the surrounding areas. A small band of local volunteers, one night each month, go out and record the sounds of the frogs at seven locations around Clayton Bay, which then get listened to and identified at The Lakes Hub Milang. A bar-b-q at one of the volunteers residences usually preceeds the monitoring, making it more of a social event, so with all the equipment provided by The Hub, the commitment is only a couple of hours of your time.

Of course, uncannily we always seem to pick the coldest, windiest night of the month to do it! But it was all worth it this monitoring season, when we recorded an endangered Southern Bell frog at Dunn's Lagoon in November, the first heard there since the drought!

So if you want to join our merry band of frog listeners next season in September 2016, or want to have a site of your own to monitor, please contact Regina Durbridge at The Lakes Hub Ph: 08 8537 0808, or the Clayton Bay Nursery and Environmental Group for more information.
